Snapshot

- Latest NSE quote: ₹252.41, down 0.08% on 11 Sep 2026; volume 870,218.
- The ETF is 12.2% below its fetched 52-week high of ₹287.33 and above its 52-week low of ₹237.90.
- Reported trailing P/E: 20.35. Other valuation, yield, and fund-quality fields were unavailable from the provider for this run.

What it is

SETFNIF50 is an NSE-listed SBI ETF intended to provide Nifty 50 exposure. The resolver identifies it as SBI-ETFNifty50; the fundamentals provider labels it SBI Nifty 50 ETF, an identity naming discrepancy that was not automatically reconciled.

Risks and fit

This is a concentrated large-cap India equity allocation, not a complete diversified portfolio by itself. It can suit the core-equity sleeve of a long-horizon plan, but it remains exposed to equity drawdowns, valuation changes, tracking difference, liquidity/spread, and Nifty 50 concentration. Consider pairing it with debt/liquid assets and other diversifiers according to your target allocation. No dividend was reported for the trailing 12 months in the fetched data.

Data limits

No on-entity news or NSE/BSE announcements were found in this run. The provider did not publish market cap, expense ratio, tracking difference, AUM, dividend yield, beta, or several other fund metrics, so those are not inferred here.
